The voice is not paramount to everything else in opera, the prima donna must be an actress as well, says this famous dramatic soprano, and if success on the operatic stage, both here and abroad, spells knowledge, she knows whereof she speaks. Miss Garden sends out an enlightening message, through this article, to the ambitious singer that will be appreciated.

What Would Lincoln Do?

An Article by Dean C. Worcester,

Secretary of the Interior in the Philippines.

Not so many people are aware that actual traffic in human beings exists and flourishes in the Philippines today under the Stars and Stripes. Mr. Worcester, in an open and frank statement, describes in detail the different forms of slave trading. The information is startling and presents one of the serious humanitarian problems that confront the government today. Native pictures taken by the author illustrate the article profusely.

You Can't Make It Pay

A Story by Henry Oyen.

Illustrations by Arthur Jameson.

"It is hopeless to seek to thrive by wrong-doing, no matter how shrewd, how brilliant you may be—you can't make it pay," are the concluding words of the judge who gave a three years' sentence to a clever gambler. But the young man thought he knew better. It was luck he blamed, but luck some day would come back—and at the outset of his penal service he felt that it had. The story is a masterpiece in its originality and development and grapples with a big moral and social problem. The illustrations by Jameson help tell a powerful story.

The Ninth Life

STILL HOPES TO GET THAW.

JEROME SAYS THE CASE IS NOT ENDED YET.

Insists that the Report of the New Hampshire Commission Doesn't Amount to a Row of Pins and that the Issue Will Go to the Supreme Court Eventually.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—William Travers Jerome, special attorney for New York State in its efforts to bring Harry K. Thaw back to Matteawan, said today that the action of the New Hampshire commission in ruling Thaw sane would not affect the main issue.

"Except that it may afford Thaw the opportunity of reaching some foreign country from which he cannot be extradited, or of killing some man," said Jerome, "the report of the commission is of no consequence. The question involved in the proceedings before Judge Aldrich is whether the Governor of New Hampshire acted legally when he granted the extradition. Whatever way the question is decided, it will go to the United States Supreme Court. I am sure we would appeal if reversed, and certainly the other side would continue to fight."

If the Supreme Court upholds Gov. Perkins in extraditing Thaw, Jerome continued, "Thaw will be brought back to New York and tried on the conspiracy charges preferred against him following his escape from Matteawan and ultimately will be put to death."

Thousands of tourists now in the city, besides many of the permanent residents here, will welcome the news that they can get an accurate map of the city, showing all the new subdivisions and changes in names of many of the streets.

The California Savings Bank, Spring and Fourth streets, will gladly give one of these valuable maps to anyone who desires them.

They are to be had at the New Accounts window.

This Progressive Institution is continually seeking ways and means to improve its service to the public. Telephone and waiting rooms are at the command of tourists, as well as the Bank's patrons.

lodge back in the asylum whence he fled.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CONCORD (N. H.), Jan. 12.—Harry K. Thaw, elated by the report of the Federal Court Commission that his release on bail would not endanger public safety, remained in his apartments at a local hotel today, receiving messages of congratulations and planning a series of visits within the State in the event that United States Judge Aldrich allows him his freedom under bonds.

The next move in the case will be the filing by Thaw's counsel of a petition that the amount of bail be fixed and a date for a hearing on the question will be set by the court.

Thaw and his attorneys are at work preparing a brief order by Judge Aldrich last month in the matter of extradition, and to which William Travers Jerome, special Deputy Attorney-General of New York, will reply before the final court hearing is held.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—Roger O'Mara, trustee for the estate of Harry K. Thaw, and his confidential adviser, said today that while no definite plans have been formed for Thaw, if he is released on bail, he would probably come to Pittsburgh and into business with the Thaw family.

"He has the ability to start and maintain a successful business and he will do it," declared O'Mara.

Principal of Kansas School Suddenly Becomes Insane and Attacks His Pupils.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] PARSONS (Kan.), Jan. 12.—A ward school was thrown into a panic today when Frank Llewellyn, its principal, suddenly became insane and attacked a number of his pupils. Eight women teachers were unable to quell the riot and all the pupils fled. Two officers subdued Llewellyn and placed him under guard.

Llewellyn's attack is believed to have been the result of brooding over trouble caused when he attempted to stop a fight between two school boys last October. He was accused of striking one of the boys and a suit for damages was filed against him.

ASSESSMENT UPHOLD.

Supreme Court Decides $300,000,000 Increase in Valuation of Colorado Property Is Legal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] DENVER, Jan. 12.—The legality of the State Tax Commission and its recommended increase of more than $200,000,000 in the assessed valuation of Colorado property was upheld in a decision handed down today by the State Supreme Court. Under the decision the declared full value of the State is $1,396,690,407 and the State taxes for all purposes, $1,698,447.

The case was based on the refusal of Clair J. Pitcher, Assessor of Denver County, to extend on the tax rolls the increased assessment certified by the State Tax Commission and the State Board of Equalization. This increase of 40 per cent. aggregated $161,000,000.

TORPEDO BOATS FOR THE COAST.

HAYES BILL AUTHORIZES EIGHT SUBMARINES.

Congressman Introduces Measure Which Directs that the Vessels Shall Be Built on the Pacific Slope, Where They Can Serve as Harbor Defenses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Hayes introduced a bill today authorizing and directing the Secretary of the Navy to contract for eight submarine torpedo boats to be built on the Pacific Coast at an aggregate cost not to exceed $5,350,000, and appropriating $1,500,000 toward the cost.

Hayes believes that the Pacific Coast requires more defenses, and favors submarines, which can serve as harbor defenses and also engage in offensive operations. He has not indicated where he would have them stationed, but probably at San Diego, harbor of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Puget Sound.

Congressman Kettner introduced a bill today authorizing and directing the Secretary of War to issue at his discretion and under regulations to be prescribed by him, to the San Diego Army and Navy Academy, Pacific Beach, one 2.2-inch field gun with its mount, implements and accessories, a light and fog signal station at Point Vincent at a cost not to exceed $30,000.

FOR GIROLAMI'S WIDOW.

Work's Bill Appropriates $2000 to Woman Whose Husband Died a Hero to Duty.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Works introduced a bill today making an appropriation of $2000 for Teresa Girolami, widow of Ettore Girolami, an engineer in the United States Immigration Service, who lost his life in the discharge of his duty.

Harry Weddle, the inspector in charge, has made a full report of the drowning of Girolami at sea, off the Coronado Islands, on January 10, 1913. Weddle has asked Senator Works to try to have an allowance made by Congress for Mrs. Girolami to help her bring up her children.

Girolami was engineer on the Ellzabeth, which was at the time waiting for the gasoline boat Delmatia off San Diego. The Delmatia was believed by the immigration service to be on its way to Santa Domingo near Ensenada for a load of contraband Chinese. Forced to leave the islands in a storm and put out to sea alone, Girolami was never again heard from.

Taylor have engaged reservations for Guaymas on the steamer Cerro, which leaves here next Saturday on its maiden trip to Mexican ports under the flag of the North Pacific Coast Steamship Company. Other reservations have been made for the same boat by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mendez and Jose Alcaraz, San Jose del Cabo; Juan Valencia, E. D. Peters, S. S. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Rutherford, Mazatlan; Manuel Alvarez, Gus Morales, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jennings, Manzanillo, and Edward McGonigal, Mexico City.

Getting Into Form.

A letter was read from the County Civil Service Commission, yesterday at the meeting of the County Supervisors, certifying that the following three persons had qualified for appointment as assistant to the Public Defender: David R. Ferris, a graduate of Occidental College; William W. Clary of Pomona College; and Guy S. Pratt of U.S.C. The commission was read and ordered filed. One assistant had been asked for by the board of supervisors, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wood, public defender, with a promise to ask for a second one in the near future, and also for an investigator, all of which were referred to County Counsel Hill, but Wood was given a stenographer in the person of Miss Blanche Robinson, at a salary of $100 a month. Mrs. Norton is acting as assistant.

LABOR OF LOVE IS FOR NAUGHT.

TERRIBLE PRICE PAID BY GIRL FOR A VILE WRETCH.

Serious Charge Against Accused Brought by State Board of Health. To Earn Downy Austrian Maid Sells Her Favors at Behest of Man She Hopes to Marry.

Ethel Senta's code of love was so peculiar that she thought it would permit her to vend her favors upon the street that she might accumulate a dowry to wed the man who induced her to shame. She was just here from Austria, 21 years old, and off a farm, when Herbert McKay met her, wooed her, and mastered her.

The American man was such a delightful person to Ethel Senta that she hearkened to his wooing. When he suggested marriage she was delighted beyond doubt. But McKay explained that he didn't have enough money to wed her.

In her native country it was customary for a girl to have a dowry when she married. Ethel regretted that she did not have a dowry. McKay told her worries to McKay, and he explained that he had thought of a way by which she could earn the money to get herself a comfortable dowry.

It was, of course, the way of shame. Ethel happily followed McKay, and he explained that he had thought of a way by which she could earn the money to get herself a comfortable dowry. McKay told her worries to McKay, and he explained that he had thought of a way by which she could earn the money to get herself a comfortable dowry.

Dr. E. A. Sommer, inspector for the State Board of Health, is prosecuting the case against McKay. It is alleged that the man even usurped the practice of a physician by performing an operation upon the girl. And through it all, suffering indescribably, the girl thinks her sweetheart is an honorable and delightful gentleman.

HESITATES—INJURED.

A Boy This Time, and His Fall Due to an Automobile at a Street Crossing Taken to Hospital. Fritz Heiner, a German boy, 7 years old, No. 2602 Vallejo street, hospitalized a moment in crossing at North Broadway and Doris street last night and was knocked down by an automobile driven by W. W. Gardner of No. 414 East Adams street, the front wheel going over his stomach. He was taken to the County Hospital.

After an examination it was decided that an X-ray operation would be necessary to determine if any of the viscera had been cut. There are other possible internal injuries. The automobile driven by Gardner is owned by Kemper & Co. of No. 208 East Ninth street.

CIVIL SERVICE BUGABOO IS HALED INTO COURT.

Mrs. Norton Files Suit to Enjoin Clique from Overriding the County.

Relief Earl-Evans-Norton Masked Reformers Halted Before Forays Become Too Destructive—Lawyers Confidently Expect Commission to Be Wiped Off Map. All Business Held Up for Judicial Decision.

THE CIVIL SERVICE bugaboo of the county is the only one of its kind in captivity. The civil service provisions were written by one Elliott Goodwin, a so-called efficiency expert of New York, who happened to be attending the national municipal convention in Los Angeles while the thresholders were patching the county's unique organic law.

Goodwin, who was visiting a leading "reformer" during his stay here, was politely requested to draft the important chapters in the charter, although he had never seen Los Angeles or California before that trip, and was only here a week.

Then Expert Doty was called from Wisconsin to show "em how they do things back in the Badger State, Evans, the chairman of the commission, and Doty are old cronies.

County Counsel Hill is confident the court will grant the permanent injunction and block the backroom plot of the alleged county patriots and "hydraulic reformers" to replace the scheme of government perfected by years of experience and hard work with a dubious type of reform. He asserts that the efficiency in this county government has been attained by master minds in successive generations coupled with years of study and experience and not by a single "imported mind." And the future greatness of Los Angeles county depends upon the solidity of a legal foundation for its government and not the fanciful dreams or ambitions of any set of cunning politicians masquerading as "battlers for the Lord."

EVERYTHING STOPS.

The official machinery of the county will practically be at a standstill pending the court's decision, which should end the bitter fight between the Civil Service Commission and Supervisors over who's boss of the county patronage, et al. County Counsel Hill will today instruct department head in the county not to honor any official request of the commission and several bills incurred by the expensive Evans-Doty department will be dropped.

THE COURT holds that the provisions of the charter relating to civil service are in conflict with the constitution, it does not necessarily annul the provisions of the "Evans rule" charter of this county.

Teriaumoana, "Queen of the Ocean."

Miss Alma Gooding, from the island of Tahiti, with her friend, Miss Alice Hughes, is visiting in this city. She is a native-born French woman, who is very popular with the natives.

HONORED BY NATIVES OF TAHITI ISLAND.

TERIAUMOANA is quite a word. It means "queen of the ocean" and it is the title the natives of the island of Tahiti have given to Miss Alma Gooding, a native-born French woman. The idol of the searhing divers and her friend, Miss Alice Hughes of San Francisco, arrived in the city yesterday, and are at the Lankershim.

Not satisfied with honoring the young woman with the long word, the natives gave her a coconut plantation on the neighboring island of Rietas. She won the admiration of the natives by her attractive personality and her many acts of charity. The prominence of her family was also in her favor.

Teriaumoana and Miss Hughes became close friends several years ago when they were classmates at the college of Notre Dame in San Francisco. The island queen completed her education in this country, giving special attention to music and art. Miss Hughes went to Tahiti last June and spent a delightful vacation with her friend. They visited a number of the islands in the group and made a special study of the manners and customs of the people.

The natives honored the young women with an elaborate feast upon their recent departure from the island.

"I have never seen such a royal spread," Miss Hughes declared last night. "The menu included roast pig, raw fish, a salad made from the heart of the coconut tree, and a wide variety of vegetables, nuts and fruits. The only beverage served was the milk of the coconut. The feast was spread on the ground. The natives sat with their fingers, but do it with remarkable grace. The raw fish was very delicate, and I was surprised to discover that I relished it."

GREAT IMPETUS GIVEN TO CHICKEN INDUSTRY.

Poultry Show to Close This Evening After Demonstrating to Thirty Thousand People the Possibilities of the Business—New Varieties of Great Importance. List of the First Prize-Winners.

DESPITE the fact that the poultry business has declined somewhat in volume in the last four or five years, the quality of chickens has greatly improved, and those who have stayed with the industry can show a better stock than Southern California has ever before seen. This is evidenced by the exhibits at the Poultry Breeders' Association show, which has been going on since last Wednesday in the old postoffice building, and will be concluded this evening, when the numerous silver trophy cups will be awarded. A first prize pen of nine birds will also be presented to one of the 30,000 visitors who have attended.

The Mayor Rose cup is to be awarded today by His Honor in person. It will go to the best male or female bird, of the Mayor's own choosing, in the sweepstakes class.

The Times cup, for the best pair of birds of all varieties competing in the show, was awarded yesterday to W. S. Macy of Santa Barbara.

The poultry show will close tonight at 10 o'clock, after a most successful session.

The show has excelled all others ever held here in the quality of the birds and the arrangements, more than in the actual number of chickens. By actual count there are 250 chickens in the pens. There are seventy-four varieties to choose from, including the variations of the different breeds. For example, there are barred, buff, white, partridge, silver penciled and Columbian Plymouth Rocks, chickens of the one family, but of great range of coloring and qualities.

To estimate the value of the chicken exhibition is impossible for the reason that they range from $5 a pair to $100 for a coop of unusual and pedigreed birds. Secretary Joseph Davis says that the chickens exhibited are worth at least $15,000.

IMPETUS TO INDUSTRY.

While the industry itself has not made the strides it should during recent years, those in the business have taken a much greater interest. The membership of the club, which is or-

WRITE PARALLEL IN HUMAN BLOOD

Ostrich Farm Crossing Scene of a New Tragedy.

Mother and Son Die Beneath Locomotive Wheels.

Supervisors to Be Asked to Abolish Deathtrap.

A tragic parallel was written yesterday about the bloody Santa Fe crossing on Pasadena avenue near the Ostrich farm. A second accident occurred there in which the automobile bearing Mrs. Catherine Newlands and her son, William Y. Newlands, was struck by a Santa Fe train. Both were killed.

The two accidents occurred just seven days apart almost to the minute. In both automobiles a mother and her son were riding in the front seat. Both cars were bound for Pasadena to keep dinner engagements. The same in-bound Santa Fe train from San Bernardino struck each automobile.

The details of each accident are practically identical. The tragedy occurred Mrs. Isabel Symington, a wealthy widow of Moore Jaw, Alberta, Can., was driving with her son James, when the latter, driving the car, attempted to take the crossing in advance of the train. Mrs. Symington was killed. The son is still in the Santa Fe Hospital, recovering from injuries.

TRAGIC INTERRUPTION.

The details of the Symington tragedy were discussed yesterday by Walker Jones, the keeper of a small store at the crossing, and his neighbor, J. F. Cole, when the second tragedy occurred. Their attention was directed to the crossing because three automobiles laden with passengers had dodged by in the face of an automatic warning that was swinging a red disk back and forth, and clanging a bell as a warning to all motorists.

Another eyewitness, William Jennings, No. 1646 East Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, who was riding a motorcycle, and stopped to let the train pass, stated that the wigwag signal was going, and that four automobiles were in line, and three crossed before the train. When the train struck the Newlands machine, Newlands was knocked out the automobile and thrown about thirty feet, crushing his skull and breaking his left arm. The automobile with Mrs. Newlands in it was pushed 1100 feet down the track, and demolished.

The crossing is a long one. The Santa Fe train comes swooping into the city with the benefit of a down-grade behind them and a straight run ahead. The speed is supposed to be less than twenty miles an hour, but conditions often result in a higher rate, it is said.

The old Monterey road, which has become Pasadena avenue, takes the railroad crossing at an angle, presenting a long stretch of highway where the most careful watch is necessary.

DEFY WARNING.

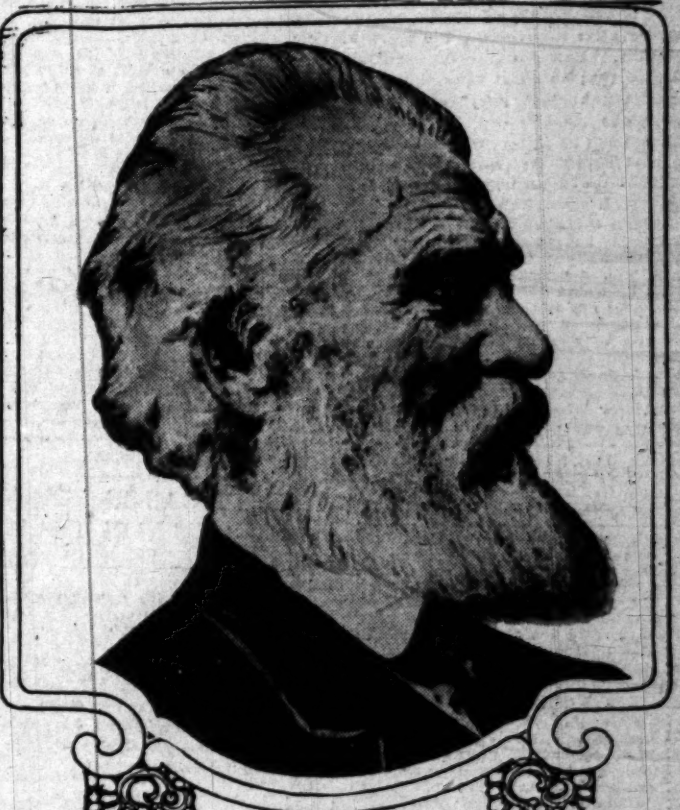

William Newlands and his mother, Catherine, alone in the car, came speedily to this crossing. Ahead of them had dashed several automobiles whose drivers had dared to take the crossing in defiance of the automatic warning that heralded the approach of a train.

A terrible smash-up followed. The car spilt over the front of the railroad locomotive was dragged one-fourth of a mile up the tracks, while fractured pieces dripped along the right of way.

Mrs. Newlands was caught in the shattered debris that was the motor car and lay unconscious amid the wreckage when the train stopped, and the crew came to assist her. She was in a condition of merciful coma. Far back along the tracks, just a

How Can He Be Sure of Unselfish Love?

Richard Ellison, Pioneer, Indian fighter, capitalist and rancher, twice married and father of nineteen children, who says he would marry again if he could find the right woman.

RICH AND EIGHTY-FIVE, SEEKS PERFECT WOMAN.

HALE and hearty, his ruddy cheeks and sturdy bearing belying the 85 years he acknowledges, Richard Ellison, pioneer, ex-Indian fighter, capitalist and rancher, is the living refutation of the assertions published in The Times of last Sunday of Townsend Nichols, who, at 73, attributes his splendid health and freedom from worry to the fact that he was never in love, never engaged and never married. Ellison not only has been married twice and is the father of nineteen children, thirteen of whom are living, but would like to embark for the third time on the sea of matrimony.

HARRIS GOES BACK ON HIS TALE OF KILLING.

BURR HARRIS will hang February 13 without coming to Los Angeles to aid in the hunt of the mythical buried treasure.

Under Sheriff Brain, one of the most experienced officers in the employ of the county, returned here yesterday after interviewing the negro at Folsom. Harris not only positively denied that he killed Charles E. Pendell, but he was asked several test questions that proved conclusively that he was lying when he summoned Sheriff Hammel to his prison cell in order to impart a supposed secret of great import.

When the money-lender's dead and battered body was found, June last, in his office in the Temple Block, Hammel, his personal friend, vowed that he would find the assassin of his bondman if it took years. He went to Folsom in response to the letter of the wily negro and the prisoner unfolded a yarn which was believed by the Sheriff. He at once took steps to have Burr Harris, the convicted murderer of Mrs. Rebecca F. Gay, brought down here in order to locate diamonds stolen from Pendell's safe, which Harris declared he buried at a point on the Whittier road.

"Harris absolutely denied the story when I arrived at Folsom," said Under Sheriff Brain. "He said his purpose in telling it was to get an opportunity to come here and see his mother for the last time. He not only denied that he killed Pendell, but utterly discredited his previous story by showing a lack of knowledge of material points that Pendell's murderer must have known."

These points will not be made public lest they put the real murderer on his guard. Police detectives and officers of the District Attorney have clues which point toward a certain person. They declare that some day the man will make some "break" which will warrant them in arresting him.

Brain reports that Harris appears to be in fairly good spirits and does not seem to be looking ahead with any unusual amount of fear. The negro expects a commutation of death to life imprisonment by Gov. Johnson, under whose administration such things are done, as in the case of Figueroa, the "liger man."

few feet from where the fatal smash occurred, lay the body of her son, a young man, crumpled lifeless against the embankment of the right of way.

Mrs. Newlands never recovered consciousness. She was lifted into a Pullman car and brought to the city. The bodies of both mother and son are at the mortuary parlors of Cunningham & O'Connor.

OTHERS TO BLAME.

By word of eye-witnesses, the accident was due to no cause save oversight of the driver of the motor car, who evidently had taken as insurance of safety the mad hazards of the motorists who preceded him.

The second tragedy had started a movement to have the crossing condemned by the county and have the road either depressed or elevated. Details of the physical District Court by Judge Wellborn yesterday.

Anton Johannsen, indicted with Trevino, Clancy and Munsey in connection with the dynamite outrages three years ago, was in court, but on motion of Asst. Dist. Atty. Stone the case was continued indefinitely. The same action was taken in the case of Ethel Hall and Antonio Felix, indicted for smuggling Chinese. Miss Hall died a short time ago, and information was recently received at the Federal Building that Felix had been shot and killed during the Mexican troubles, but Dist. Atty. Schoonover is taking no chances. The action against "Gen." Mosby, the leader of the I.W.W. "warriors" along the Mexican boundary line three years ago, which involves a violation of the neutrality laws, also was continued.

A charge of perjury against William B. the Josephine Hammers, growing out of an affidavit in regard to the amount of work done on a claim in Imperial county, was tried May 19. This case went all the way to the Supreme Court of the United States, Justice McKenna preparing an opinion reversing the action of Judge Wellborn in sustaining the defendant.

The question involved was whether a relinquishment could be made to government land previous to the issuance of a patent by the government or the completion of the annual proofs. The defendant had made affidavits that are alleged to have been false in a case covering the value of improvements on the land prior to the completion of the annual proofs. It was held that as a relinquishment was not valid until the patent had been issued by the government, and that there could be no such thing as perjury in such an instance. The Supreme Court, however, held that an assignment prior to patent could be legally made, and that an allegation of perjury would hold in law. It has since turned out that there are only fifty acres of land in the piece, and while the amount of work done is more than enough to cover the requirements of the government of $1 an acre, the false death of the defendant, setting out that $250 worth had been done, is still in existence, thus placing the government in position to push the prosecution of a case where a false affidavit was entirely unnecessary.

ANOTHER MEETING TODAY.

Los Angeles Investment Company stockholders to complete work of reorganization.

The adjourned stockholders' meeting of the Los Angeles Investment Company will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the main office of the company, Eighth street and South Broadway.

The report of the tally of votes will be read if the company has been checked by that time and other routine business transacted.

There may be a directors' meeting at 4 o'clock, as it is possible that the adjourned meeting will be adjourned until later to effect organization and election of officers.

Manager Martin stated that many congratulatory messages were received yesterday about the happy and harmonious meeting Saturday. The day's business exceeded previous days for some time back. He is inclined to believe that confidence is being restored and the concern will go ahead from now on.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon the Home Makers, which is an auxiliary of the Los Angeles Investment Company, will hold its annual meeting in the basement of the building. Arthur W. Kinney, president, S. M. Clark, manager, and Frank M. Simpson, secretary.

SOME CLIMATE, THIS.

Visitors from the North testify to the fact at a Public Reception at the Chamber of Commerce.

Declaring that the glorious sunshine of Southern California had rejuvenated the elderly men of the party—so much so that their friends failed to recognize them—Charles McMillan, captain of the State Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, of Vancouver, B. C., responded to a hearty welcome which President Kinney of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce extended to the excursionists from the Northwest at a public reception at the Chamber of Commerce last evening, in honor of the visitors from Canada.

Capt. McMillan spoke in a happy vein, and answered President Kinney's offer to exchange anything of Northern California with the Northwest, by saying that the excursionists from Vancouver would gladly "swap" a bit of their annual rainfall for an equal amount of California's sun.

There were several hundred visitors at the reception last night and a hearty spirit of good fellowship pervaded the gathering. Lucius K. Chase, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, introduced the speakers, the first of whom was President Kinney. Joseph Scott was the next speaker and his talk put the visitors in a happy mood. Capt. McMillan, J. Crane, J. A. Paulsen and Thomas H. Cook responded for British Columbia.

SHOEMAKING IN SCHOOLS.

Shoemaking and repairing as a part of the vocational course is being introduced at Macy-street Trade School, at Castelar-street School and at Ann-street, under W. J. Cordner as instructor. Cordner was for many years a shoe manufacturer in eastern cities, and understands every phase of the business. Students will be taught to repair shoes, to select leather, and to make shoes.

An Investment To Yield Net 6%

This 6 per cent investment will meet all the requirements of the careful investor who desires perfect safety, availability and a liberal income.

It is offered in the form of a coupon Certificate issued in denominations of $100 or any multiple thereof as required by the investor.

These Certificates are fully secured by first mortgages on improved residence property for about half the real value of the property. Practically all of these mortgages are taken on the homes of the borrowers and all are repaid in monthly installments insuring an exceptionally good moral risk which is automatically decreased by each monthly payment. The fact that we have over three and a half millions invested in these mortgages without owning one dollar's worth of property taken through foreclosure is an excellent indication of their high quality.

Money invested in these Certificates may be withdrawn at any time after the first year with interest in full. The 6 per cent interest is payable semi-annually without deduction at the source for the Federal Income Tax.

MIKE GIBBONS KNOCKS OUT BOB M'ALLISTER.

St. Paul Phantom Gives Greatest Exhibition Ever Seen in New York—Peppered the Tall San Franciscan With Both Hands and Finally Floored Him in the Seventh With a Left Hook.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unliking all the potential fighting ability that many felt he possessed, although he had never cared to show it to its limit in a ring in this city before, Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, defeated Bob McAllister, the Pacific Coast wizard of the ring, in sensational fashion tonight at Madison Square Garden.

After one of the prettiest exhibitions of boxing that had ever been seen in this city, even when the game was at its zenith in the time of the Horton law days, Mike uncoincidentally the thunderbolt in his repertoire and after battering his taller and heavier rival so that he could hardly hold his hands up, he shot in a terrific left hook and the man that a whole lot of persons had figured a second Fitzsimmons sank to the canvas inert and helpless as the referee called out ten seconds.

DEAD TO THE WORLD. McAllister, with face puffed and battered and a thin smear of crimson darkening his lips, lay flat on his back with eyes shut, muscles lax, helpless and unconscious of all that was going on about him. The crowd did not cheer. It was too dumbfounding to see beaten down in such whirlwind fashion as that had been raised on the pedestal only a few short days before when he had whipped Battling Levinsky, the scourge of the white hopes.

There was not the usual rush to the doors to see if "Bob" would be able to come out of the coma into which that pile-driving left had sent him. The onslaught had been so vicious and the climax punch so hard that many thought he might have been seriously injured. Gibbons stood over him, not with the expectation of so many boxers who gloat over the downfall of an opponent. He stood there waiting for the count to get over, but evidently with no thought that McAllister would be able to get up within the ten seconds. His object was a different one.

PICKED BOB UP. He appeared to be sorry for what he had done and when Billy John signified that the bout was ended beyond all argument, Mike stopped and raised his vanquished rival and helped to carry him to his corner. There he was deposited limply in his chair while Mike walked slowly out.

Big Roofs.

CHIP BEATS CHRISTIE IN VERY ROTTEN FIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gus Christie disgraced himself tonight by his showing against George Chip, who had the better of every round until the ninth, when Christie was able to get an even break, and the tenth was also even, with each boy busy trying to get in a knockout punch. Chip landed the only real blow of the first round, a staggering uppercut to the jaw, and Chip was the aggressor without any spectacular work in the second, third and fourth.

Christie first showed symptoms of fight talent in the fifth round, but Chip before the period ended nearly lifted Christie off his feet with a right uppercut to the German's jaw. Christie, however, in this round

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From the present outlook the Portland team will not put in as long a period of training at Santa Maria as has been the custom for the last few years. The arrangement of the calendar for the present year with the early opening of the season, which takes place on March 31, is responsible for this decision.

AZEVEDO AND FRENCHY VAISE READY FOR GONG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Azavedo and "Frenchy" Vaise wound up their training yesterday for their round bout at the Oakland Wheelmen's Club tomorrow night, and both lads appear fit to travel the distance at a fast clip.

Vaise appears to be in better condition than when he faced Azavedo and he was good enough on that occasion to break even with the Sacramento boy, while many of the fans

CLABBY DEFIES MIKE GIBBONS.

By Larnie Lichtenstein, Manager of Jimmie Clabby. Jimmie Clabby is the only boxer who ever got a referee's decision over Mike Gibbons. In view of his wonderful showing against Bob McAllister, we are willing to give him another chance.

The only stipulations we make are: That the fight be over the twenty-round route, and that Gibbons make 134 ringside—which ought to be easy for him.

George Chip is also a probability as a Vernon opponent for Jimmie. We will allow Chip to come into the ring at 134 ringside. He has announced that he is willing to do this weight, so I can see no obstacle in the way of either match.

of the ring looking sheepish rather than triumphant. And as he left the ring he was not greeted with the storm of cheers that one might have expected for the conqueror. Most of the fans were watching too eagerly to see if McAllister would recover. He did come to in about a minute and when he wobbled unsteadily out of the ring, it was to him that most of the cheers were given. He had fought a pretty fight and had done what everyone had wanted to see for many a day—he had made Gibbons put forth all the amazing skill and punching power which so many were sure he possessed.

The first round was a fine exhibition of leading and clever boxing during the first minute between McAllister and Gibbons. Bob poked over his long left three times to Mike's face, but by holding in Mike tossed out the first time, then made it up in leaves and place in pan. Let it rise for one hour before putting it in the oven. If it is made up in pound loaves and your bake oven is the right heat the baking should take forty minutes. SAILOR PETROSKEY TELLS HOW NAVY MAKES BREAD.

ALTHOUGH Sailor Petroskey's prowess with his fists kept him from ever going to sea, he rendered the United States government valiant service as a baker. His entire term of enlistment in the navy was put in as a boxer and a bread maker. He was rated as a navy baker and never got out of the bakery except to go into the ring. Wherever the "sailor" is some baker, for the navy maintains splendid service schools for its cooks.

Out of the wealth of his experience Sailor Petroskey has drawn up the following recipe for the benefit of the women readers of the Pink

More Than Twenty-five Entries Are Expected for the Big Race, including winners of the Elgin and Savannah Road Races—Race Will Be Held in March.

At least twenty-five entries are assured for the big 200-mile motorcycle road race on the Santa Monica course, planned for early in March. Since plans for the motorcycle speed event were broached a few days ago interest in it has become widespread and indications are that it will be the biggest long distance motorcycle race ever held, both in point of entries and in the speed maintained.

Two big motorcycle manufacturing companies in the East already have given assurance that they will send racing teams of at least three riders each to the race. A dozen other companies are expected to follow the example of the two leaders and have teams consisting of from two to ten riders here for the race.

BENNIE ALLEN BESTS RECORD.

Billiard Champion Defeats Morley Fifty to One.

Beats Own Game and Knows No Better.

Perfection of Control Shown on Ivorys.

No human being could play better pocket billiards than was executed by Bennie Allen last night at Morley's, when he made 150 balls in seven innings, for an average of thirty on five innings, the remaining two innings being utilized as safeties. His last 130 balls were broken from nine triangles without a miss, with only two shots for safety interrupting the run. This beats the world's record, but will not stand as such, because an exhibition game.

James Morley was cast as Allen's opponent, but played chiefly the role of a deeply interested spectator, collecting a little total of three balls during two intervals when Allen paused for breath.

This record is no reflection on Jim's ability, as he was simply shut out of the game without a decent shot, by the perfection of the world champion's manipulations. The large and generous audience even applauded, and called for a speech when James made a beautiful safety shave which compelled Allen to follow suit.

There was not a bad play made on either side during the contest, if such it could be called. The faultless levities presented to the champion by the Brunswick-Balke-Clender Company responded to the slightest touch with the delicacy of a violin.

In the 156 shots made by the young champion, including the frequent "breaking out" inevitable in such runs, he froze the cue ball only once, and then found his way out through a three-ball combination, without ceasing play or altering his scheme.

Allen had "come back" with a vengeance after his modest start on Friday night, when he scored 120 balls to Stephenson's 130. If he improves in the same run tonight, George Banks should finish in crib parlance, 124 balls "in the hole."

GAME IN DETAIL. Allen won the last, and chose to let Morley break the triangle. Morley made the usual safety break on the long diagonal, but Allen picked off one sphere with lay poking its nose out behind the bunch, and tried for the second, but missed.

Morley on the second turn put down the ball which had evaded Allen, and missed a hard try for another. Allen, in his half of the second inning, carefully rooted out the balls which had been somewhat scattered by Morley's shot, playing with such exceeding care that he "bided" his cue back and forth twenty-eight times as a preliminary to a single shot. With all his care, his play was rapid, and he put down the twelve balls remaining playable on the first frame, continued by breaking the next frame and pocketing the whole fourteen, added four out of the next, and missed for the second and last time, his run being thirty.

Morley took two balls, missed a difficult cut-out, and sat down to count his score of three. Allen ran the eight remaining balls, took the next two frames and one ball of the fourth, then stopped for safety, with a run of thirty-seven, and total of sixty-eight.

Morley, finding nothing in sight, played safe also, compelling Allen to follow suit.

Starting the fifth inning, Morley missed, and Allen artistically cut out thirteen balls, fourteen more, still another, and scratched in breaking the seventh frame by rolling from a kiss into a corner pocket. This run had netted him forty balls above the scratch, and his total was 108.

PERFECT SHOOTING. So far, Allen had placed every ball in its pocket without its touching the jaws. After both Morley and he had played safe in the sixth inning, and Morley again in the seventh, the champion ran out three straight frames for forty-two tallies, making the remarkable total of 150, with such exquisite touch that in all the cuts combinations, cushions and banks involved, only one ball shared a cushion, and that was on a full length table shot.

The generalship required in such play involved finesse of high order, demanding frequently calculations on positions of the last half-dozen balls of a frame, in order to provide a good breaking position for the next frame. In one instance, a pair of balls lying frozen within the triangle area, required two separate caroms from object balls shot into pockets before the last yielded the coveted space.

Allen had made an average of 31.5 for the seven innings, the last being unfinished, with one scratch, three safety plays and two misses. Morley made no scratches, four safeties, and three misses.

Allen's play by innings was as follows: 1, 30, 27, safety, safety, 40 scratch, safety, 42—total, 150. Morley's record: Break safe, 1, 2, safe, 0, safe, safe—total, 3.

Bennie acknowledges this to have been the best game of his career, and all experts agreed that, so far as known, nothing ever equalled it in figures and scientific quality.

Banks, Pacific Coast champion, is slated as the opponent of Allen in his final game tonight, and the contest is expected to draw out of the champion any reserve he may yet hold.

Allen is to play Tom Hueston in San Francisco next week, and defend his title against Maturo at Seattle the week following.

A bride and her little flower girl.

There were three little flower girls, the bride's sister, Betty Lacy, and Constance Lacy and Ruth Gordon, her cousins. Little fingered frocks were worn with pink bows and white baskets filled with rose petals were carried.

Ward Higgins, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were William Gordon Lacy, Carlton Merrill, Charles Shattuck and Leland Scott, the latter two from San Francisco. Dean MacCormack was the officiating clergyman. Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lacy of Wilshire boulevard, where only relatives and a few friends were included. The bride's table was decked with white roses and lily of the valley, while elsewhere in the beautiful home Chateau roses were used in great quantity. At the conclusion of a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Higgins will occupy a cosy home at Piedmont, overlooking the Golden Gate.

Miss Drake Honored.

A glance in at the California Club last evening would have pleased the most critical. Huge palms and the tastiest of gold baskets filled with Killarney were used everywhere to carry out the pink and green scheme chosen by Mrs. Joseph F. Sartori and Miss Juliet Boudier for their daughter's party. Miss Daphne Drake, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Calhoun Drake of South Hollywood street, was the honor guest, and 150 members of the younger set were hidden in her compliment. Receiving with Mrs. Sartori and her daughter were Miss Helen Jones, Miss Constance Byrne and Miss Louise Hunt, three of the season's charming young buds. Music was furnished by Arent.

Potted palms, great branches of live oak, and rare cut flowers transformed the reception hall into a fairy garden, and pretty to look upon was the rainbow of colors in the guests' dresses. A symphony of handsome gowns, bridge play, and dainty buffet luncheon were the guests' delight. The hostess, "God-speed" were Misses John Percy Lawton, F. E. Browne, Frank Carroll, Leslie A. Henry, Edna E. Roth, Hilda E. Townsend, Thompson, J. K. Carson, John W. Burton, George S. Flintoff, A. G. Rhetmeyer, George T. Greely, S. W. P. Fishburn, T. F. Bender, James J. ASK A LOWER FARE.

Residents of Lennox Petition for a Reduced Traveling Charge to and From This City.

Thirty representatives of the Lennox Improvement Association appeared yesterday before Commissioner Edgerton of the State Railroad Commission with a plea for a reduction of the Los Angeles-Lennox fare from 15 to 10 cents, and the placing on sale of a thirty-ride family commutation ticket at $1.50 instead of $3.

The case was an outgrowth of the commission's decision some weeks ago reducing the Ingewood rates. Representatives of the Lennox Improvement Association declared that they are being discriminated against in being compelled to pay 15 cents, when Ingewood residents pay 10 cents for the same service.

Edgerton will, at 10 o'clock today, take up the case of the Pinney and Boyle Manufacturing Company, asking that the Santa Fe be compelled to pay a refund for alleged overcharges on sheet-iron heaters shipped over that road.

SHE DOES NOT LIFT THE VEIL.

BEAUTY IN THE "COMMON LAW" IS NOT REVEALED.

An Uncommonly Bad Novel Put Into a Worse Play at the Mason, the Majestic in Shakespearean Productions—"Romeo and Juliet" Tonight's Bill.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK

The "Common Law" was an uncommonly bad novel and is a somewhat worse play. Some of the actors in the cast which opened this atrocity at the Mason last night achieved the distinction of being as bad as either the book or its dramatic version.

At Estimote Springs they have mud baths. Some men write like that. Robert W. Chambers is one of them. If a man wants to give his mind a hot mud bath he has only to take a dip into one of Chambers' exotic spasms. If his friends succeed in reviving him, his character may not be utterly broken, but it will be badly bent.

One may escape Chambers with integrity of body, but never with integrity of mind. Chambers is a literary regret. He is one of the very few people in America who can write and he will not. His one burning desire evidently is to become the idol of the girl at the ribbon counter. In this he temporarily succeeds. When she grows up, the girl at the ribbon counter will know better.

What Chambers has done in the "Common Law" is to hurl bolts of hot colors against a dismayed canvas as if they have splashed all over it. The man who has dramatized this impossible book is not a man to be married by his stenographer, but for an artist to marry his model.

The woman is put in the utterly false position of feeling that she is not good enough for the man and of offering herself a sacrifice to their love. She is very naïve, very young, but it still happens to be a bit sner and sweeter than this miserable and silly caricature tries to make it out.

The Sheriff attended the show last night. I wasn't sure that the performance would not be pulled. It was a moment of doubt where the pretty model agrees to pose for the altogether and does so. She comes in, holds her head and absolves the shrieking daubs disfiguring the premises. The only other clue besides the programme, is the fact that the woman wears a Vandyke beard and a nasty disposition, while another is arrayed in blue velvet and red and black.

The play has a single merit. I beg pardon, the play has no merit, but it has a redeeming feature. It is the pretty face of Betty Davis, who takes the part of Rita Tevis. She is exceedingly good, but not good enough to carry the Julia Marlowe, were she ten times herself, would not be.

The leading man has made the mistake of imagining himself playing Hamlet instead of Louis Neville. Also he talks like a school boy in pain. I can assure him that it does not hurt him any worse than it does the audience. I sat through part of it and I know.

In conclusion, I would like to suggest that the magazines which publish money from young ladies who shew gum under false pretensions. Their is a great deal of red and black about being bad. He always ends lamely enough with a perfectly conventional, but it is something that does not come through.

At the Majestic. Sothern and Marlowe repeated "Much Ado About Nothing" last night. The play is a masterpiece. It is the same old story of Beatrice and Benedick who meet through a series of coincidences. Sothern is so much the artist that he gives the play a quality of its own. It is a something short of a lover's fire.

I often have the feeling that this gifted artist does not abandon himself fully to his part nor yield to the perfect freedom of the stage. His Hamlet, Shylock and Francis Villon are given the free of this but in some of his other work he does not release the whirlwinds of a large nature.

I was mistaken about Hamlet's ghost. Hamlet is the man who tries to play it and who sinks in the pit as badly as a school boy on examination. Hamlet is the man I meant to suggest and the possibility. Ghosts have no business being cheerful.

HOSPITAL STAFF IN WRECK.

Auto Struck by Electric Car But Injured Are Not Seriously Affected. The staff of the Crocker-Steinhilber Hospital was seriously depleted by an automobile-struck car accident at Sixth and San Pedro streets shortly before midnight last night. The house physician, superintendent and one nurse were painfully, but not seriously injured. They were treated at their own hospital.

Dr. J. C. Netley, house physician, Miss Mildred Nichols, superintendent, and Miss Catherine Collins, nurse, are the injured persons. They were coming in from an evening auto trip, Dr. Netley driving. At Sixth and San Pedro streets, the machine collided with a Pacific Electric car, the auto being driven by one of the passengers. Dr. Netley sustained scalp lacerations, and Miss Nichols and Miss Collins superficial bruises. They were rushed to the Crocker-Steinhilber Hospital in the hospital ambulance, hastily summoned upon direct from Miss Nichols. After treatment in their own operating-room, they were put to bed.

VARIED BILLS AT HOUSES OF VAUDEVILLE.

Catherine Countess and Company Featured at Orpheum—A Night at the Bath" Is Hit at Empress. Great Show at Hippodrome—Other Bills.

A dramatic episode of considerable emotional intensity is that which Catherine Countess and her company of three actors are presenting this week at the Orpheum. Its innocent-sounding title is "The Birthday Present."

"The Birthday Present" may be considered, if you like, in the light of a little problem playlet. The situation is sordid and commonplace enough. A young woman is living as a married man's mistress, the only condoning circumstance being that they are genuinely in love with each other. Like every true woman, Gwendolyn longs for the child that must forever be denied her in her present situation. She wants to see her lover's little son by the other woman, and this boon, too, is denied her. The lover finally relents, however, and little Gerald makes her a visit on his birthday, which happens to be hers also. The birthday present of the play is her gift to the child—the child which she feels should be hers; she decides to sever all relations with the father.

While the playlet is neither strong nor written, and in its beginning seems positively stupid and lame, permitting none of the actors any chance whatsoever beyond the utterance of tiresome platitudes, it grows in interest and plausibility as it progresses, and its climax is both powerful and pathetic. Miss Countess is a very beautiful woman. Toward the end she shows that she can act. Her support is good.

and Johns fighting for headline position.

Phina is a real coon shouter, though the open spot is confined to her voice, while the Pinks are the real thing and so is their singing and dancing. Abram and Johns have the best sketch of their Hippodrome career in "In Honor Bound." It is a social thriller, and in addition to Maurice Chick, who for some time has ably supported the stars, the cast introduces Emily Curtis in an interesting role.

Really there are three headline acts, for Schep's dog, pony and monkey circus continues to delight the crowds, and Lovell and Lovell in songs of the past win a big hand. The sketch of Collier and De Walle is decidedly out of the ordinary. Llewellyn, as the hobo with the silver voice, wins sincere applause.

Woody Theater. Featuring a splendid two-reel Domino film called "Harp of Tara," the new bill at the Woody Theater on Broadway, opposite the Majestic Theater, proves to be one of the best yet given as a mutual programme.

"Harp of Tara" touches, in a new way, on a theme with which everyone is familiar and holds the audience fascinated from start to finish. As an admirable complement is the newest and perhaps funniest Keystone comedy yet thrown on the Woody screen, introducing many of the best-known stars of this celebrated comedy-producing organization.

In addition there are several other Mutual headline films of more than ordinary interest, while the snort entertainment is completed with a musical programme which is decidedly of interest, while the snort entertainment is completed with a musical programme which is decidedly of interest.

Tally's Broadway. Charles Hawtree, one of England's stage favorites, is appearing in a motion picture, "A Message From Mars," and is now showing for the first time in this city at that newest of picture palaces, Miller's Ninth-Spring and Main-street Theater. This is the first of the Photoplay masterpieces which will be shown every week under the exclusive contract the management has with the General Film Company.

A comedy offering called "Bunny's Mistake," is also on the bill. The second offering, starting Monday, January 19, will be a Selig animal picture called "Thor, Lord of the Jungle," which is undoubtedly the greatest effort of this great organization.

Travelers of serious things, which are conducted to much laughter. The absurdities of "Harp of Tara," which is by Gallagher and played by him and Bob Gallager, are built on that solemn thing, service in the American navy. The closing scene, a burial at sea, is naturally a subject for tears—but 'tis made food for laughter. The setting is good, the music is good, the acting is good, the story is good, the story is good.

Culver City in 1916
Population 5,000

In 1900 property in a dozen or more Southern California cities could have been bought for a song—today the same property is worth fortunes—has made fortunes for investors—keen minded people who read aright the future of Southern California.

Located between the two fastest growing population centers (Los Angeles and Venice,) the meeting point of three great interurban electric lines, the first important point to be benefited by the new subway—Culver City bids fair to outdistance the growth records of every southwestern city.

Culver City is a "city of logical reasons"—a community based upon a plan—its founders and developers are men who are empire builders—men whose very names are synonymous with success, integrity and progress.

The histories of all Southern California cities have been histories of fortune making in real estate—through rapid increase in population.

There were two bidders, Lynn S. Shind and $184,800 and T. J. Shind $189,000. The Board of Public Works will probably act upon these bids after the present week.

It has been suggested that the town be given the project, which will increase the revenue that will have to be paid by property owners on California and North Broadway, will be $100,000.

The board provide for lowering the grade of the twenty-two feet, which necessitate a cut on California from North Broadway to Hill street.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Public Welfare Committee yesterday firmly set upon Councilman Reed's scheme to have Plaza Park used as a public forum. Speakers will be allowed the use of the streets around the Plaza.

The Harbor Commissioners are discussing a project to build a breakwater and jetty from Dead Man's Island southerly, so as to leave only a 3000-foot opening for the entrance to the outer harbor.

The Council as a committee of the whole will meet tomorrow afternoon to discuss the policy to be adopted regarding insurance and indemnity of city employees. The cost of State insurance would be enormous, and the city may decide to carry its own risks.

Five appointments of the Mayor will be before the Council for action on confirmation this morning. Opposition has developed to confirming William F. Jeffries as Police Commissioner and Robert Wankowski as member of the Public Service Commission.

Eight members of the Council are in favor of retaining City Tax Collector Taggart in his position until city and county offices are consolidated. They so informed Mayor Ross yesterday. Ross would like to secure Taggart's removal.

The Imperial East Side Water Company is opposing the petition of the receiver of the California Development Company to rescind a contract to supply water to 4000 acres, although the Imperial is receiving its supply from the Mexican receiver.

Because she owes a $250,000 mansion in New York, but elects to reside at Pasadena, saving nearly half of her alimony allowance, the wife of a baking-powder king was refused $7500 attorneys' fees to provide for an appeal to the Supreme Court.

At the City Hall.

PLAZA IS NOT FOR SPOUTERS.

PARK TO REMAIN INVIOLENT, BUT ANOTHER IS PROVIDED.

Public Welfare Committee Refuses to Sanction Convention of Old Landmark Into Stamping Ground for RUMBLE-Quarter-Million of Taxes in One Day.

Professional agitators cannot use the Plaza for their noisy mouthings, notwithstanding the efforts of Councilman Reed to provide an outlay of city funds for a public forum in this park. The Public Welfare Committee of the Council firmly set upon the Reed scheme yesterday. It decided that there should be no deviation from the provisions that exempt all city parks from public speaking.

The committee decided that as the streets around the Plaza are open for public meetings, there is no occasion for such meetings in the park. It will recommend, however, that steps be taken to provide a permanent public forum on the open space between Los Angeles street and the old California building, north of Arcadia street, and adjacent to the Plaza.

DISCUSS JETTY.

TO OVERCOME SURGE.

Members of the Harbor Commission have been seriously discussing the project of securing the construction of a jetty or breakwater to extend from Dead Man's Island seaward for a distance of 4000 feet, so as to overcome the surge that occasionally rolls in from the south-west. It was such a surge as this that caused the break from her moorings recently.

Such a breakwater or jetty would leave an opening of probably 3000 feet at the mouth of the outer harbor, and it is believed that it would effectively afford protection to the municipal dock No. 1, and the adjacent docks of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company.

Members of the commission believe that the city could afford to pay for at least 2000 feet of such construction, as this would be the portion that would directly protect the municipal wharves. It is probable that the government would be appealed to for funds to complete the work. Col. McKinstry has approved the project.

RECORD-BREAKER.

CITY TAXES PILE IN.

The time for paying city taxes, without the penalty of 5 per cent being attached, expired at 5 o'clock last night. When the City Tax Collector opened his office yesterday morning there was a little more than $700,000 on the rolls to be collected on the first installment. During the day there was paid over the counters $213,920.75, of which amount Oscar Upright, cashier, received $142,828.

This payment leaves owing to the city more than $400,000 to be provided for, and City Tax Collector Taggart stated last night that he expected the great bulk of this will be in the mails, so that there will be only a small delinquent list.

MIGHTY COSTLY.

INSURANCE OF EMPLOYEES.

The City Council as a committee of the whole, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to discuss the policy to be adopted by the city in regard to workmen's insurance and accident compensation. The sentiment seems to prevail to go under the provisions of the State insurance would be entirely too expensive for the city to undertake.

So intricate are the provisions of the act that attorneys are chaffy of interpreting them, and as a result there is much confusion in the minds of Councilmen as to just where the city would be were it to undertake to place itself under the provisions of State insurance.

The City Attorney sent to the Finance Committee yesterday a compilation, estimating the cost of insuring the city's pay roll or employees, and this totals a premium of $115,150.64, which does not include any estimate for the Aqueduct Power Bureau.

WILL THEY CONFIRM.

APPOINTMENTS UNDER FIRE.

The subject of confirmation of five appointments of municipal commissions, sent to the Council by the Mayor last week, will be before the Council this morning. Indications are that there will be a contest on the confirmation of William F. Jeffries for place on the Police Commission, and Robert Wankowski for member of the Public Service Commission. President Whitcomb stated yesterday that he does not believe either of these appointments will be confirmed.

The appointments of William T. Craig as a member of the Civil Service Commission, Orta E. Monette as a member of the Public Library Board, and John W. Nickerson as a member of the Humane Animal Commission will each be confirmed without opposition.

Is Officially Indorsed.

The Lot Cleaning Bureau has been officially indorsed by the Municipal Charities Commission, and is authorized to collect funds from the public to carry on its work. The Lot Cleaning Bureau has only two solicitors in the field, H. Davis and C. H. Erickson. These men carry their credentials from the Municipal Charities Commission, and do not require any special authority to be shown and may thus protect themselves against representations of orurious collectors. Receipts for donations are to be given on official forms in all cases.

In Committee's Hands.

Assistant City Engineer Hanson reported to the Finance Committee yesterday that the plans have been completed for the Second-street tunnel, and that sections have been placed in the hands of the Tunnel Advisory Board appointed by the Council recently and composed of Arthur Benton, Samuel Clorow and William Mulholland. These plans provide for two twenty-four-foot bors.

May Become "Inspectors."

The time-honored word "detective" may be left for the exclusive use of operatives in private agencies and the police detectives will become "inspectors" if the plan of Chief of Police Sebastian prevails with the Police Commission. This subject will be before the committee tomorrow. The Chief will ask, if this change is made, that the present police detectives be raised to the rank of lieutenants.

It is proposed to draw the line clearly between the police "inspectors" and the private detective bureau operatives, and it is probable that such agencies will be required to take out permits after securing the approval of the Police Commission.

As to Water Mains.

It has developed that there is a conflict between certain provisions of the building ordinances regarding the size of water mains for class A buildings and the also adopted by the water department. In some instances, mains eight and ten inches in diameter are required in new buildings, while the water department will not consent to the placing of mains larger than six inches. An amendment to provide for larger mains was adopted by the Council yesterday.

Taggart to Stay in Job.

It is an open secret that Mayor Ross has desired the removal of City Tax and License Collector Taggart even since the Mayor took office as the City Hall. Taggart has refused to resign and during the past week, it is understood, an under-current has been at work within the city hall. Yesterday the Mayor's hopes of bringing about Taggart's retirement were blasted. Councilman W. H. Erickson, as a committee representative of the Council's recent caucus on appointments, called on the Mayor and notified him that the Council would not sustain him should he undertake to remove Taggart.

President Whitcomb of the City Council said yesterday that he expects to see the consolidation of the City and County Tax Collector offices in the next year, and that there is no desire on the part of the Council to disturb present conditions until this is brought about.

It is said that eight of the nine Councilmen were against the removal of Taggart.

Nine-Foot Billboards. After having been a moot subject for many months, the billboards problem is to reach the state of final action soon. The Public Welfare Committee of the Council yesterday decided to prepare providing for billboards not to exceed nine feet in height, and said that it would promise meets with the approval of those who have been making strenuous protests against former proposed provisions.

Asks for Ten Thousand.

Edward Walker McLaughlin, who was an employee of the city in the street department, yesterday filed with the Board of Public Works a demand for $10,000 for damages sustained when a bank of gravel carved in on him while working on Washington street between Main street and Grand avenue. McLaughlin's thigh was crushed and he sustained other injuries.

Handley Re-elected.

The Board of Public Works yesterday re-elected Lorin A. Handley as its president for the ensuing year. Handley was nominated by Commissioner Johnson and was seconded by Commissioner O'Brien. Handley, who was elected to the position in 1929, was re-elected by a vote of 10 to 2.

City Hall Briefs.

The City Council yesterday granted Councilman McKenzie another week's leave of absence because of continued illness. McKenzie is slowly gaining strength and hopes to be back at his official duties next Monday.

The Wilshire Presbyterian Church.

The Wilshire Presbyterian Church made protest to the Council yesterday on its action in allowing 40100 feet, the space actually occupied by a temporary building, to be exempted from the provisions of the city's full lots secured for a permanent building. Plans have been prepared for the new structure. The Council voted to rescind its former action and allow exemption for all three lots.

Montgomery & Mullen, who have a lumber yard at Avenue Sixty-one and Patented a new method of insuring the city's pay roll or employees, and this totals a premium of $115,150.64, which does not include any estimate for the Aqueduct Power Bureau.
